GLORY OF POLITICS AND ITS WARRIORS

Baltimore, Oct. 7.—Taking for his theme "The Race for the Kingdom of Heaven," Cardinal Gibbons in his sermon at the Cathedral today made reference for the purpose of comparison and contrast to the Presidential campaign.

"One evening a few months ago in Washington I had the honor of conversing separately with six distinguished statesmen, all of whom are available candidates for the Presidency. I found them all in a receptive mood, and any one of them, in my judgment, would fill the office with credit to himself and with honor to his country."

"At the candidates will be compelled to stand on the pillory to be lashed with the scourge of vituperation. Their family records will be searched and all their shortcomings and those of their forefathers will be laid bare, and if the record is not dark enough it will be blackened by the brush of calumny. Indeed a man never discovers what a miscreant he is till he has the temerity to run for public office. Oh, my brethren, if you and I were to endure so much for the crown of eternal glory we would be regarded as idiotic or fanatical."

A Democratic club with twenty-nine members has been formed at Hauula.

KALAU APPOINTS ELECTION CLERKS Supervisor Persuade Him Not To Pass Buck To Them

SEVENTEEN PRECINCTS
PROVIDED WITH CLERKS

TEN ARE REPUBLICAN NOMINEES, FIVE DEMOCRATS, ONE HOME RULER AND ONE DOUBLE

County Clerk Kalaokalani today changed his mind about passing the appointment of election clerks, to assist the inspectors on election day, which he yesterday had decided to leave to the Board of Supervisors. The appointing power was originally left in Kalaokalani's hands, but owing to a superabundance of gratuitous advice offered by a Democratic Supervisor, he yesterday announced that he was tired of being interfered with and would therefore pass the buck back to the Board.

Yesterday afternoon, however, the Supervisor in question, as well as several other members of the Board, saw Kalaokalani about the matter. Explanations were made and the result was that Kalaokalani this forenoon set up his list of appointments, which is as follows:

MISS HELEN WILDER
SUES E. D. TENNEY
Wishes To Regain Full
Control of Wilder
Estate Shares

BROKEN ENGAGEMENT IS
CAUSE OF HER PILIKIA
DOCUMENT WAS SIGNED TWO YEARS BEFORE MARRIAGE
TO HORACE J. CRAFT,
NOW ANNULLED.

An interesting suit was filed by Helen K. Wilder of this city against E. D. Tenney this morning in the Circuit Court. The plaintiff alleges that she filed an instrument placing 800 shares of paid-up capital stock of the Estate of S. G. Wilder, Limited, in the hands of E. D. Tenney as trustee in September, 1897, when she was engaged to be married. She also states that the marriage expected did not take place and that she is now an unmarried woman.

The complaint is that Miss Wilder believed at the time she signed the document transferring the property that she could revoke it when she saw fit and that since there is no clause providing for this she asks the aid of the court to help her to do so. In this instrument it is stipulated that during the life of the plaintiff she shall be paid the entire income but that in case of her death if there are children in the family one-third the entire capital should be paid her husband if living and two-thirds to the children. In case the husband was dead the children were to get one-half the entire property and the remainder to the heirs-at-law. In case neither children or husband were alive at the time of Miss Wilder's death, the entire property was to go to her heirs-at-law.

The engagement mentioned was one later broken which took place before Miss Wilder's marriage to Horace J. Craft, which occurred in this city on May 16, 1899, which has since been annulled.

HAWAIIAN SHOW AT OPERA HOUSE

At the Hawaiian Opera House tomorrow night a grand concert will be given by the Sisters of Hawaii Pono Society. It is given as a benefit for poor Hawaiians.

The entertainment program will include songs by talented Hawaiian vocalists seldom heard in public. Another feature of particular interest will be the portrayal in tableaux of historical events during the reign of Lonoikamakahiki and Kapulani, king and queen of the island of Hawaii in 1520. As a part of the tableaux another extremely picturesque feature will be given, namely, the old-time hulas.

KINNEY'S MEMORY ON 1888 LAW IS NOT CORRECT

"Mr. Kinney's memory fails him slightly," said W. O. Smith this morning, referring to a passage in W. A. Kinney's letter published in the Advertiser in which Kinney says: "You and I had the honor of voting shoulder to shoulder in the Legislature of 1888 for an election law which made it a criminal offense to 'provide a voter' with either 'meat, drink or entertainment' for the purpose of influencing such person to vote or refrain from voting for 'and particular person or party.'"

"The law of 1888 to which he refers had to do only with election day. It did not include the campaigning period," said Mr. Smith.

NOMINATIONS WILL CLOSE AT MIDNIGHT
Democratic Nominees of Fifth District Have Not Filed Papers

FEW HOME RULE MEN
HAVE ENTERED NAMES

ENTIRE REPUBLICAN TICKET
FOR LEGISLATURE HAS BEEN FILED—DELEGATES ARE READY FOR FIGHT

The last chance to get in nomination papers for the positions of Delegate and members of the Senate and House will be between this afternoon and midnight, when Chief Clerk Buckland will close the lists. The entire Territorial ticket of the Republicans had been filed before noon today, but on the Democratic and Home Rule tickets there are a number of candidates who have failed to come in with their papers.

In the Fifth District not a single nomination paper for the members of the House has been put on record by the Democrats, while in the Fourth for the same position only Ed. Ingham and M. A. Silva had called to see Mr. Buckland. All the candidates for the Senate on the Democratic ticket have placed their nomination papers in the hands of the chief clerk already.

In the Home Rule party matters are a little different. For Senator, D. Kalaokalani and J. Kekipi are already safe, but in the matter of Representatives Daniel Damien, S. K. Mahoe and J. P. Kuluwaimaka alone have attended to the work. J. M. Poepeo, J. K. Nakookoo and D. M. Kupheoa, all candidates from the Fifth District, have either waited till the last minute or do not intend to run with the balance of their fellow candidates.

D. Kalaokalani and S. K. Mahoe have been endorsed by the Democrats and so fill out two more on the Home Rule ticket.

The nominations of Prince Cupid, McClanahan and Charles Nottley have all been filed.
